| Essay: (title + date) Mark = | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Discussion of individual points clear and well supported • But need to have clear & coherent argument throughout that directly addresses question | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Using mind map worked well for pulling together sources, examples, evidence etc. round each separate thing I wanted to say – use this again • Probably I should think of my over-all answer to the question BEFORE I start to write <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Decide how each point contributes to that answer, rather than writing about it in isolation ○ Use index cards to organise points so that they make logical steps in my argument ○ Show clearly how these points relate to each other & the question |
| Tutorial presentation (title + date) Mark = | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Spoke clearly, good eye contact, rapport with audience • Content was a bit confusing, it didn't really fit together • I didn't need to talk about (X) but I should have brought in (Y) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Practising paid off! • I'm disappointed, I worked hard on this. Is there a connection with the essay? Here, again, I didn't focus enough on building an answer to the question so I included things were relevant to the general topic but not to what I was supposed to be saying about it. It's not clear to other people where I'm going because I haven't thought that through myself. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Similar steps to above should help. |
