Learning and Teaching Conference 2019—Call for Proposals

We are delighted to announce that we will be holding the annual University of Edinburgh Learning and Teaching Conference on Wednesday 19th June 2019 at the John MacIntyre Conference Centre, Pollock Halls of Residence.

The conference will focus on evidencing the value of teaching and learning, and we welcome students and staff from across the University to attend and present. The call for proposals is now open and we will be seeking a range of different presentations (e.g. papers, workshops, posters, lightning talks, show and tell opportunities, walkshops and more).

For more information : Learning and Teaching Conference 2019 or if you have any questions please email LEARNING Teaching Conference - lt.conference@ed.ac.uk

IAD Tutors & Demonstrators

The IAD supports tutors and demonstrators teaching and marking across the University by offering orientation courses for new or relatively new teachers, enhanced development courses for more experienced teachers, and support for gaining teaching accreditation. To find out more and to book for Semester 2 click here.

Prepare for Doctoral success is a four week online course starting on the 11th February 2019 for all new postgraduate researchers. The course aims to help you settle in by sharing essential information, tips and advice and will give you the opportunity to interact with other students at the same stage as you.
