Reading and writing blogs: how can students influence teachers' practice?

Dr Jenny Scoles, Academic Developer (Learning & Teaching Enhancement), Institute for Academic Development

Outline of session

16:00 Welcome and introductions

16:05 Presentation

16:30 Questions

16:35 Breakout groups

16:50 Share back in larger group

17:00 Finish

PLEASE NOTE We will record the presentation only, not the chat or breakout groups

The engage network is open to staff and students – You are ALL welcome

Resources from today

We will post the recording, slides/other resources from this session to the engage webpage

https://www.ed.ac.uk/institute-academic-development/learning-teaching/connect/engage

Scroll down to 'Previous engage events and resources'

Please give us feedback – how was the session today?

Would you like to be on the engage mailing list? Send an email to iad.teach@ed.ac.uk

Next engage event

Thursday 23rd June 2022 09:00-10:00 (Online)

Is sociable curiosity the most important graduate attribute?

Dr Neil Thin, Senior Lecturer, Social Anthropology

https://www.ed.ac.uk/institute-academic-development/learning-teaching/connect/engage

Look out for the 2022-23 programme of events advertised towards the end of the summer!